10 drops of blessing: A Passover ritual during the plague of COVID-19

FROM THE RABBI'S STUDY

David
Wirschafter

Each year at the seder when we come to the second cup of wine, we remove 10 drops from our glass signifying how our joy is diminished by the suffering caused by the 10 plagues upon Egypt. This year, amidst the suffering of the COVID-19 virus, we are called upon to cherish the ways in which our joy can be increased. Rather than refilling our cups in a single motion, as we normally would do between the first and second cups, let us refill them via 10 distinct acts of pouring, assigning a reason for each.

TAI offers video seder in the age of social distancing

Among the painful cancellations we have had to make during the COVID-19 pandemic is that of our Temple seder, a communitywide event we look forward to every year.

Having carefully considered the pros and cons of providing a video or livestream, we've opted for the first for a number of reasons.

People can start, stop and pause whenever they wish. This is particularly helpful in

Elissa Weinstein named Religious School director

Elissa Weinstein, who has spent the current school year as assistant to the director of TAI Religious School, has been named to the top job for 2020-21.

Elissa succeeds Kristen Hoffman, who has been in the post for four years; Kristen has accepted a new part-time job at TAI: director of marketing and brand development.

"It is with great excitement and enthusiasm that I look forward to taking on the role of Religious School director," Elissa said. "Jewish education is such a vital

TAI, enduring together

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Deborah
Nelson

As I write this column, we are bracing ourselves for at least several months in which we wonder whether we or people we love will struggle in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic. I am thinking more about what matters most — those we love and what we hope will endure in our lives and our legacies. And, as always, I am so grateful to be on this journey with the TAI community, connected to you and to the traditions of our ancestors.

Good thing that ours is a tradition that has endured adversity and thrived. Our peoplehood was forged in the wilderness, as we learned how to be a sacred community. While we must, of course, act together as a sacred human community to beat this pandemic, I hope that Temple Adath Israel can be a source of particular strength and support for those of you who will need it, as well as a way for each of you to share strength and support. Each week you will learn about opportunities to pray, study Torah, and to help.

The most important message of this column is for those who might struggle in the months ahead, whether physically, emotionally or financially, to know about the following resources:

1. Technology-technical help is available: If you are having any difficulty connecting to Shabbat services or would like to connect to Torah study/Kollel, or any of the smaller groups that are forming, please contact me. We have many who will guide you patiently on the phone to help you connect. You also can use technology to have a face-to-face discussion with Rabbi Wirschafter and others in the TAI community.

On a more humorous note, those of you with children at home might find it amusing to know that I am dividing my time equally between kvetching at my children to put down their electronic devices and begging them for help as I clumsily learn the technologies that will help me do my job as president. Shout out to the Juliets, who are reputed to be 60 and older but are finding ways to connect every which way through technology!

2. Financial assistance: Our TAI ancestors understood that we are all responsible for one another. The Temple L'Chaim fund was established for this purpose and is also supported by the Carolyn and Herman Strauss Memorial Fund. If you need assistance, please contact Rabbi Wirschafter, Laura Creamer or me. If you would like to help congregants who have been hit hardest by the pandemic, please consider a donation to the L'Chaim fund.

Finally, to the many congregants on the front line of this crisis — health care workers and others who care for the vulnerable or sick and perform essential functions — we extend our gratitude and prayers for your safety. Thank you, in advance, to TAI staff, especially Rabbi David Wirschafter, and administrator Laura Cramer, who will be carrying the weight of caring for our temple community, even as they also take care of their own families.

With gratitude,

part of temple life. I look forward to maintaining the wonderful school that Kristen has helped to build and guiding it into the future."

Elissa attended Indiana University, earning a bachelor's degree in anthropology and Jewish Studies, with a minor in Hebrew. She has been a teacher at TAI's Religious School and Preschool, and assistant director of Camp Shalom. She currently serves as president of Sisterhood and treasurer of the PTA at Athens-Chilesburg Elementary School, and is a youth soccer coach.

Elissa was in eighth grade when family moved to Lexington in 1992. She and her husband, Alan Weinstein, have two daughters, Arly, 9, and Emma, 6, both of whom attend Religious School.

Weinstein

Dennis Heskell and Tricia Bowdidge became grandparents for the first time with the birth of Ari Maxwell Jennings on Feb. 25. Ari is the son of Jessica Heskell and Tyler Jennings of Georgetown.

Judy Craft welcomed granddaughter Beatrice Anna Braffman on March 2. Beatrice is the daughter of Matthew and Leah Braffman of Washington D.C.

Mark Swanson has been appointed by Mayor Linda Gorton to the 3rd District Urban County Council seat that was left vacant by the March 3 death of Jake Gibbs. Mark, a faculty member in the UK College of Public Health, will serve through Dec. 31, when Gibbs' term ends. Gibbs was not seeking re-election. The 3rd District includes TAI.

Dr. Ralph M. Crystal has been selected by the National Council on Rehabilitation Education as the recipient of the 2020 Distinguished Career in Rehabilitation Education Award. It is the highest honor an educator in the field can attain. Ralph is chair of the University of Kentucky Department of Early Childhood, Special Education, and Counselor Education. He helped develop the first online master's program at UK, which was one of the first in the nation for rehabilitation counseling.

Meet our new member

Susan Isaacson

I'm delighted to be a member of TAI as I was raised, confirmed and married in the Reform temple of my "long-ago."

For me, the memories of those days are still fresh. After our marriage, the raising of our daughters in their parents' faith was equally important. My late husband was raised Orthodox, so we settled ourselves into the Conservative branch; all Hebrew praying and little music. Both of our daughters were confirmed or bat Mitzvah.

After my husband's death, I took a long break from organized religion for a variety of reason. So upon my arrival in Lexington, I reached out and found the Juliets, a good, kind rabbi and a temple that felt like I was "home" again!

TEMPLE ADATH ISRAEL MISSION STATEMENT

Temple Adath Israel is a Reform Jewish congregation linked to a tradition of welcoming those searching for a community committed to honoring the dignity we all share as children of the one God by embracing these enduring Jewish values: AVODAH (Worship); TALMUD TORAH (Torah Study); TZEDEK (Social Justice); and KEHILAH (Community). Our mission is to inspire our congregants' Jewish engagement and to ensure a vibrant Jewish present and future by nurturing the many generations of our community. We share a commitment to the Reform Jewish foundational beliefs of furthering individual and communal spiritual growth, while recognizing a range of personal philosophies, practices and needs. We are the community center through which our families can celebrate faith, justice, and the blessings of family lives present and future.

BCE: Before Coronavirus Era at TAI

Late February and early March was a busy time for Temple Adath Israel, before statewide COVID-19 precautions led to the shutdown of services and other activities.

Purim Carnival right on target

The annual Purim Carnival, presented by LexTY on March 8, was the last major event at TAI before the COVID-19 shutdown.

Above: Hannah Messer tossed a ring toward the target while other children tried some of the other games and activities. Near right: Another target in the social hall was Rabbi Wirtschafter, who, dressed as Haman, took more than a few whipped cream pies to the face. Far right: Lisa Hufana received a Purim gift bag, delivered by the Rabbi to older and homebound congregants.

Making her case

During an adult education program in March, Jane Gris , standing left, discussed historical documents from Juidice vs Vail, a case she argued before the U.S. Supreme Court. Gris  has written a book about the case, which had important implications for consumer debt in the United States and the use of federal courts for civil rights cases

Scroll work completed

Sofer Neil Yerman returned to TAI in March to complete restoration and repair work on the temple's Torahs. Here, he sewed the parchment from one of the regular use Torahs — as opposed to the Turnov scroll — back onto one of the poles.

(Participants should feel free to modify the 10 themes/values that follow as they wish.)

God of Our Ancestors, God of the fortunate and unfortunate, healthy and unhealthy, happy and unhappy, God of survival and solace, relief and regret, deliverance and despair. We turn to You not because we believe You have ordained this current plague but because we believe in your power to guide us through it. Help us, we pray, not only to count our blessings but to make out blessings count.

1. We fill our cups with the blessing of joy.

2. We fill our cups with the blessing of gratitude.
3. We fill our cups with the blessing of holiness.
4. We fill our cups with the blessing of memory.
5. We fill our cups with the blessing of learning.
6. We fill our cups with the blessing of freedom.
7. We fill our cups with the blessing of family.
8. We fill our cups with the blessing of hope.
9. We fill our cups with the blessing of healing.
10. We fill our cups with the blessing of peace.

than dealing with the stress of troubleshooting when things have already begun. Prerecorded video allows you to fast-forward through a song, prayer or ritual you don't find particularly compelling and skip ahead to something you do. It also has the benefit of not having to worry about finding the perfect time to stream. You can start the video whenever you wish.

Our seder video will be available via the TAI website (lextai.org) and Facebook (<https://www.facebook.com/LEXTAI/>) page or you can click the link on an email and find it from there. Please call the office if you are encountering problems accessing or playing the video, and we will try to help. Together we will persevere through these trying times, and this year's seders probably will be among the most memorable we have.

Wishing your entire family wonderful seders and a happy Passover,

News From

The Jewish Federation of the Bluegrass office is closed to visitors until further notice, but the staff is available and ready to assist community members in need.

Request assistance or volunteer to help! It's a mitzvah!

Although the JFB office is closed, we are still committed to working hard to serve the Lexington Jewish community.

Assistance requests

If you or someone you know is unable to get out of the home and needs assistance with grocery shopping, picking up a prescription, or transportation to a doctor appointment, JFB can help.

We know that many in our community are feeling lonely and isolated. JFB can arrange for someone in the Jewish community to give you a friendly call.

Our thoughts are with each and every one of you as we face these challenging and uncertain times. If you're feeling anxious or stressed, reach out to Paula at JFS at jfs@jewishlexington.org or call (859) 269-8244. She will return your call and/or email as soon as possible.

Additionally, contact Paula if you need financial support for housing, utilities, medicine or food due to the spread of coronavirus.

Volunteer Opportunities

JFB is seeking volunteers to help the most vulnerable members of our Jewish community. Tasks will include phone calls to check in with individuals, grocery shopping, errands such as picking up prescriptions, and transportation to doctor appointments.

We ask that volunteers be 18 or older, have a valid driver's license and adhere to the CDC COVID-19 Prevention Guidelines.

To request assistance or volunteer to help, please complete our request form: <https://forms.gle/gaQsBACRTyfwKjCi7>

Ongoing

Registration for Camp Shalom

Sessions will be July 20-24 and July 27-31. Overnights for children entering grades 2-6 will be July 21 and 28. To register or for more information, go to JewishLexington.org/get-involved/camp-shalom or email camp@jewishlexington.org

FUND FACTS

Over the years TAI congregants have established funds to support specific programs or for specific purposes. Each month, FUND FACTS will present a snapshot of a fund to familiarize congregants with TAI's resources.

The Dr. Sherman E. Miller Memorial Fund was established in 1990 by gifts from family and friends as well as a testamentary bequest. Four years later, upon the death of his widow, Fannie, the family asked that fund be renamed to honor her as well.

The purpose of the Dr. Sherman E. and Fannie H. Miller Memorial Fund is to "provide a means for the participation in Jewish and Jewish-related activities by Temple members, with special emphasis on providing for the youth of the Temple." It includes participation costs and scholarships.

Members of the Miller family control expenditures of the fund, which may spend only the income. As of Dec. 31, the fund had $110,595, with $24,130 of accumulated interest.
