FROM THE RABBI'S STUDY

David
Wirschafter

Here I am: Presence as pandemic priority

If there is a single word that captures the essence of the High Holy Days, that word is hineni ("here I am"). The word bookends the binding of Isaac and links the prayer book with our Torah portions. "Here I am" is what Abraham says twice to God and once to Isaac in the very same passage. "Here I am" are the words those leading our prayers are to recite as they begin High Holy Days services with our initial petition before an open ark. So, on behalf of the entire Temple Adath Israel staff, our Board of Directors, the Music and Worship Committee, and all those who prepare and lead our services, we have a request. Please join us. We need you here. We need your presence. We ask you to lend your voice to ours in saying hineni.

Guest protocols for the High Holy Days

Based on security concerns due to the divisive times in which we live, TAI will be welcoming congregants and guests for services during the High Holidays as follows:

Guests accompanied by a congregant do not have to pre-register for services.

Unaccompanied guests must pre-register by contacting the office to put their names on the guest list for each service they want to attend. When they arrive for each service, they must show a photo ID. If they don't do so, they will be turned away.

TAI has not issued tickets for HH services for several years, and we do not charge admission. Guests are welcome to make a donation if they wish, but are not required to do so.

Entry for all services will be through the office door, as has been our protocol in recent years. Congregant greeters will meet you there. Other TAI security greeters will be located throughout the building, in addition to a police presence for all services.

Whether you are a congregant or guest, please do not be offended if the greeter asks for your name when you arrive. Not all our greeters know all our congregants, even those who have been TAI congregants for 30 years or more. We will be checking names against the congregant list or the visitor list. We wish we didn't have to do this, but it is necessary to achieve our goal of creating a safe worship space.

If you have any questions or want to place a name on the guest list, call the office at (859) 269-2979 or email office@lextai.org. Office hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

Tashlich in the Park

Join the congregation as we celebrate the new year, cast off our misdeeds, and enjoy one another's company directly after Rosh Hashanah services on Monday, Sept. 26, at Jacobson Park Shelter #2.

If you'd like to order a box lunch from Jimmy John's (it's free, and there is a gluten-free option), check your email for the link. Pizza also will be available for those who'd prefer it. Drinks will be provided. Lunch orders are due by Thursday, Sept. 22; we will not have extra box lunches available. You are welcome to BYO lunch or simply attend.

To order lunch, go to Bit.ly/TashlichLunch.

SUKKOT on a BOAT

TAI and OZS return to Elkhorn Creek for a family-friendly outing on the water

Building community (oneg included)

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Rich Ornstein

Writing this column can be an absolutely wonderful experience. My last column wrote itself. I had been inspired, and the words just spilled out. I wish writing every column was like that. As I sat down with my laptop for this edition's column, I realized I had no idea for a theme. So I typed a few words and deleted a few; 10 minutes later I still had a blank screen. What to do? I stepped back and thought about the past year and where we were before last Rosh Hashanah. Then it hit me. This column's theme (same as July's): community!

I have evolved during the past two years. My guess is you have too. One misconception I had is that I thought I could have a sense of Jewish community during the High Holy Days only by attending services in-person. I was wrong. Thanks to TAI's hybrid capabilities, I can celebrate the High Holy Days with some of you in-person and others online. What's most important is that we all will be together. That is community.

For those of you who will be participating via Zoom or Facebook this year, TAI has spent the past few weeks coming up with a temporary plan to create a more modern, more personal video-worship experience. While you might not be able to be here, we want to bring as much of that in-person experience to you as we can. These upgrades are experimental, so there might be some hiccups, but know we are making changes to try to provide a better experience. After the High Holy Days, we are going to work on permanent changes to our hybrid religious service to better match this new era.

Wine and cheese and an oneg, oh my!

Now for the fun stuff! Who likes wine and cheese? Who likes cookies, brownies, coffee ... and more wine? Who likes spending time with friends and family? If you like one or more of those things, please join me and Angie at TAI when we host a wine and cheese reception at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23. We will adjourn a little before 7 for Shabbat services, then finish the evening with our first community oneg in more than two years. We want to see you and, most importantly, visit with you. Let's raise a glass of wine or a cup of coffee, and toast to 5782 as it comes to an end. It is and was a year that, like every year, has brought good and bad memories, but has made me a better person and even prouder of our temple community. L'Shana Tovah! I hope to see you soon.

TAI hosts voter forum for at-large council race

TAI is hosting a Lexington chapter of the League of Women Voters candidate forum at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, for the at-large race for Urban County Council.

There are six candidates on the ballot. The top-three vote-getters will serve four-year terms, and the top vote-getter also will become vice mayor, succeeding Steve Kay, who must step down due to term limits.

The candidates are:

- James Brown: He has served on the council since 2015 as District 1 representative.
- Chuck Ellinger: He is seeking his third at-large term; he was a district representative from 2003-2014.
- Bill Farmer Jr.: He is former council member who served District 5 from 1997-2006 and 2011-21.
- Richard Maloney Jr.: He is seeking his third at-large term; he previously served seven terms representing District 11.
- Lillie Miller Johnson: Running for an at-large seat for the second time, she has been elected to and served for more than a decade on the Fayette County Conservation District.

Registration, voting deadlines

Tuesday, Oct. 11, is the deadline to register to vote at the county clerk's office (by close of business), online (by 4 p.m.) or by regular mail (Oct. 11 postmark). Requests for mail-in absentee ballots may be submitted Sept. 24-Oct. 25; they must be returned by mail or left in designated drop boxes by 6 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, which is Election Day. In-person, excused absentee voting will be available Oct. 26-21 and Nov. 1 at designated sites. Early in-person voting (no excuse required) will be Thursday, Nov. 3, through Saturday, Nov. 5, during designated hours. Polls will be open on Election Day from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. local time.

- Dan Wu: The first-time candidate is a community activist and restaurateur.
- Joining TAI as sponsors of the event are Ohavay Zion Synagogue, Hadassah and Jewish Federation of the Bluegrass.

FROM THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Elissa Weinstein,
Director

Shalom! I would like to introduce our Religious School staff for the 2022-2023 school year. Temple Tots: Laura Schachman, Kindergarten/1st grade: Emily Miller, 3rd grade: Faith McBride-Byrne, 3rd grade Hebrew: Diane Arnson Svarlien, 4th/5th grade: Jordan Brennan, 6th grade: Dan Isenstein, 6th grade Hebrew: Diane Arnson Svarlien, 7th grade: Mark Schachman, 8th/9th grade: Rabbi Wirtschafter and visiting teachers. Abigail Miller is leading our art class, Jo Stone and visiting congregants will be doing some garden activities with our students, Gabe Robitaille will be doing music, and Laura Schachman will continue to teach cooking classes. Our teaching assistants are high schoolers Gloria Falach, Laine Fine, Tess Nelson Nathan Palley, Amanda Palley, Danit Schachman and Wexler Yelowitz.

In August, our staff came together for our first in-person training since 2020. We had a great time preparing for the upcoming school year and learned some interesting facts about one another during our icebreaker. Who doesn't love sharing their favorite TV shows and M&Ms?

We are planning to resume our Family Shabbats on the second Friday of the month, starting in October. A different class will lead the congregation in prayer each month. Be on the lookout for more information after the High Holy Days.

If you have not registered your child for Religious School yet, it's not too late. Registration is completely online; to get the link, email me at elissa@lextai.org or go to the temple website, Lextai.org, then click on the "Learning" dropdown menu in the blue area at the top and scroll to "Religious School." The registration link is near the bottom of the page.

Our Rosh Hashanah honey sale benefiting Religious School is underway. See below for details.

Wishing everyone a sweet and healthy New Year and look forward to all the new adventures that we will be able to share as a Temple community this year.

Back-to-school fun

Above: On Sunday, Aug. 28, the temple lawn was the site of the Religious School's summer fair. The Schwartz family — Polly, left, Erik, Smith and Elliot — enjoyed a picnic lunch made by TAI Brotherhood. There also were activities and a Kona Ice.

Left: Henry Hurst dug into his ice cream as the first day of Religious School ended Sept. 11 with a visit from the Mister Softee truck.

Deadline to order honey just a few days away

The deadline to place orders for the TAI Rosh Hashanah Honey Sale is Monday, Sept. 19, for local pickup and delivery. The deadline for pre-holiday domestic shipping has passed, although we will accept such orders through Sept. 19 but cannot guarantee arrival before Rosh Hashanah.

To place an order online, go to TAIhoneyale.square.site or ask the temple office (269-2979) to email you the paper order form.

All proceeds benefit Religious School.

Pickup at the temple office will start Wednesday, Sept. 21.

RABBI

The last time we gathered in our sanctuary for the High Holy Days was in 2019. With the exception of Shir Adat members and/or Torah readers, we have been without congregants in the building on the holiest days of the year for the past two years. The sanctuary was not the same without you. Worship was not the same without you. This year we will be back in our sanctuary, and we need you back, too. There are good reasons for attending virtually. We have not and will not pressure those with health and safety concerns to put themselves or others at risk. What we are asking is that those of you who can attend in person to please make the effort to do so. The time invested in getting to and from Temple will be rewarded by the quality of interaction while you are here. Everyone who attends in person enriches the sense of connection and community for everyone else.

This renewed emphasis on attendance extends beyond the High Holy Days to the entire year. Shabbat services are more lively, participatory and engaging when you are here with us. We know you and your families live busy lives with many obligations. Our request is that you include increased service attendance among your new year's resolutions, to make it a higher priority than might have been possible in the past two years or so. But however we see you, we look forward to celebrating the High Holy Days and Shabbat with you. Together we can fulfill the words of one of our opening songs. Hineih mah tov u'mah na-im shevet achim gam yahad ("How good and pleasant it is to gather like family together"). (Psalm 133:1)

Lightning fells TAI's rooftop star — again

They say lightning doesn't strike the same place twice, but the iconic Star of David on the roof above the temple's historic entrance to the sanctuary, top left, was felled by lightning on Aug. 4, the second time that has happened in less than 20 years.

The first time was in the mid-2000s. It was replaced as a gift from Emanuel Gilpin and Gilpin Masonry Construction in Midway; he saw it as an interfaith act of kindness. According to the company's website, it "worked with a stone carver to duplicate every detail with Indiana limestone. The building was just not complete without it."

The August strike split the star's base in half; the star fell backward onto the roof but was largely intact, above. Some of the roof's clay tiles also were damaged. On Aug. 30, workers from Kidwell Roof Construction lifted the star off the roof with a crane, middle left, then lowered it into the courtyard and maneuvered it, bottom left, into one of the garden beds, bottom right.

Insurance, less the temple's deductible, is covering more than half the cost for removing and replacing the star, plus replacing the fire-alarm system that was damaged by the same storm.

FROM SISTERHOOD

Elissa Weinstein, President

Shalom Sisters! We are back! Our board has met, planned and is looking forward to seeing our friends (new and old) as our programming kicks off with a get-together at Mirror Twin Brewing at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 23. We will chat about Sisterhood membership and enjoy some tasty drinks. We've planned a variety of fun events for coming year; the only thing missing is you.

If you have been a Sisterhood member or would like to join, be on the lookout for membership information in the mail. I hope everyone is staying healthy and is ready to usher in another sweet new year.

If you are interested in getting involved with Sisterhood, don't hesitate to call me (263-1859) or email me (taisisterhoodpresident@gmail.com).

Celebrate Shabbat, Sukkot at the rabbi's home

Rabbi Wirschafter and Shana Sippy will host a backyard Shabbat service and Sukkot dinner at their home on Friday, Oct. 14. The service will begin at 6 p.m., followed by a vegetarian, Middle Eastern dinner.

In case of bad weather, the event will be at the temple. Otherwise, there will be no services at the temple that evening, and the outdoor service will not be available online. Those who cannot attend in person and have a yahrzeit to observe that night may move the it to another week. For more details, to RSVP or to move a yahrzeit, contact the TAI at office@gmail.com or (859-2979).

Shake the lulav and etrog in TAI's sukkah

If you'd like to spend time in TAI's sukkah and shake the lulav and etrog, contact the office to make arrangements. Sukkot starts Sunday evening, Oct. 9.

Anna and Aaron Silco welcomed son Aidan Eleazar Silco on July 29. Aidan is the grandson of Susan and Mark Sloss.

KOLLET STUDY GROUP

Kollet meets at 9 a.m.
Saturdays, alternating with Jewish Texts. The group explores cultural,
ethical and historical aspects of our 4,000-year tradition. The emphasis is on dialogue and exploration. You may join the group any time.

JEWISH TEXTS STUDY

We will discuss selected readings in rabbinic literature at 9 a.m. Saturdays, alternating with
Kollet Study Group.
The discussion is always lively and informative, and you may join any time.

PARSHA

Join us each Saturday morning at 11 as we take a look at the Torah portion for the week. Sessions are not held when there is a bar or bat mitzvah service.

TAI MISSION STATEMENT

Temple Adath Israel is a Reform Jewish congregation linked to a tradition of welcoming those searching for a community committed to honoring the dignity we all share as children of the one God by embracing these enduring Jewish values: AVODAH (Worship); TALMUD TORAH (Torah Study); TZEDEK (Social Justice); and KEHILAH (Community). Our mission is to inspire our congregants' Jewish engagement and to ensure a vibrant Jewish present and future by nurturing the many generations of our community. We share a commitment to the Reform Jewish foundational beliefs of furthering individual and communal spiritual growth, while recognizing a range of personal philosophies, practices and needs. We are the community center through which our families can celebrate faith, justice, and the blessings of family lives present and future.
