Some days feel like I'm in a movie

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Rich Ornstein

As I write this, Groundhog Day is a week away. One of America's greatest non-official holidays, built around a weather forecasting rodent, is also the title of one of the funniest movies of my college years. What is less funny, I now realize after 21 months as TAI president, is that this position is like being Bill Murray's Groundhog Day character, Phil.

I now understand, with five months to go in my tenure, that change doesn't happen easily at an institution like Temple Adath Israel. The same people perform the same functions over and over. With some exceptions, the people who show up to help with any given event are the same ones who show up to help with the next event. Those who only want to tell you what you're doing wrong will let you know the next time what they think you're doing wrong. Those who complain and are offended every time you or someone else does something to help TAI or tries to help TAI, even after you bend over backward to help them while pretending to not take offense at their comments, will complain and be offensive the next time you or someone else does something to try to help TAI. This Groundhog Day-like adventure can get old, and you wonder whether being president is worth it. You think of the Tyrone Davis song "Turn Back the Hands of Time" and wonder whether you would take on this role if you could have a do-over. For me, the answer is yes.

Temple Adath Israel is a magical place full of wonderful people. If I weren't president, I wouldn't know many of you. I wouldn't have experienced events like January's Martin Luther King Jr. Day Shabbat service. As president, I felt I needed to be at this service to greet our guest speaker, Fayette County Attorney Angela Evans. That service featuring, as Jonathan Miller noted, our own version of Peter, Paul and Mary — better known as Jerry Suhl, Lauren Hill and Lorne Dechtenberg — was magnificent. But just as memorable was spending a few minutes talking to new member David Kaufman, whom I met just recently when he volunteered to spend one Shabbat night every six to eight weeks as a security greeter. Meeting people like David is one of the things that makes being president worthwhile.

As I have written and said before, becoming a TAI volunteer, a board member and president has been one of my greatest experiences and accomplishments. I've expanded not only my social circle but my mind thanks to so many of you. Those of you who have shared your thoughts and experiences have made me a much better person. I hope those of you who read this will consider volunteering your time, attending an occasional service or activity or joining our board of directors. My only ask, for those of you who seem to enjoy being a critic, is that the next time you feel like lashing out, take a second and remember we that are a community and that the actions being taken, whether they turn out to be right or wrong, are not being done to you but for you and our community.

Lunch & Learn features author reading

Author Moriel Rothman-Zecher will read from his new book, "Before All the World," at a Lunch & Learn at TAI at 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 26.

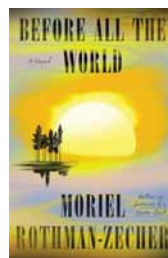

"Before All the World," one of NPR's 2022 "Books We Love," is a "rich and engrossing narrative" about two Jewish immigrants in the United States who survived anti-Bolshevik pogroms in the early 1920s, and the Black writer who translates their story from the Yiddish, according to Publishers Weekly.

Rothman-Zecher, an Israeli-American who is a visiting instructor of creative writing at Swarthmore

College, is also a poet and social activist. His previous novel, "Sadness Is a White Bird," led to him being named one of the National Book Foundation's 2018 "5 Under 35," an honor that recognizes "young, debut fiction writers whose work promises to leave a lasting impression on the literary landscape."

The Lunch & Learn will be in TAI's Educational Suite (library). It is being presented with support from Centre College and a grant from the Jewish Heritage Fund in Louisville.

Lunch reservations must be made by Friday, Feb. 24; call the temple office, (859) 269-2979.

Prayer collage workshop

Lisa Miller will lead a prayer collage workshop for adults members of TAI from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 11. The session of therapeutic artmaking will involve personal exploration and writing, small- and large-group discussion, collaging and snacks. No previous art experience is necessary. The event is free; participants should bring a notebook or journal, but all other supplies will be provided. Participants will take home a finished piece of meaningful spiritual art.

Lisa, a longtime member of TAI, leads integrative mental, spiritual and physical health events for adults in Kentucky and internationally.

Please RSVP for this event by emailing TAI administrator Laura Creamer at laura@lextai.org.

FROM THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Elissa Weinstein, Director

What a fantastic first semester of Religious School we had! In December we were fortunate to host a news reporter, Rachel Richardson, from LEX 18 who was doing a spotlight on Hanukkah. She interviewed several of our students and teachers. The kids did a wonderful job speaking confidently about being Jewish and Hanukkah. Thanks to the Friedman family for providing some yummy doughnuts for the last day of Religious School in December. It was such a special treat to help us celebrate Hanukkah.

After returning from winter break, we had a morning on, rather than a morning off, so we could focus on Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his ideas. The students talked about dreams and helped others through sandwich making and creating bags for those in need.

Our second Friday of the month Family Shabbats have been going great. In December, our sixth-grade class, taught by Dan Isenstein, Diane Arnson Svarlien and Wexler Yelowitz, took its turn hosting. It was wonderful seeing our middle school students take charge of the service and lead our congregation with confidence. During their class time they have been working on Hebrew prayers/vocabulary, discussing current events and are planning to begin reading/discussing the graphic novel adaptation of The Diary of Anne Frank. In January, our fourth/fifth-grade class took its turn hosting and did a great job. The class, taught by Jordan Brennan and Tess Nelson, has been using its class time to talk about Jewish values, Torah and practicing the prayers that you find in the service. Please mark your calendars for the remaining Family Shabbats of the school year: Feb. 10, March 10 and April 14. We're also excited that our Junior Choir will be performing at Family Shabbats beginning in February.

We also are looking forward to our Tu BiShvat seders in February, costume contest for Purim in March, Rabbi Wirtschafter returning from his sabbatical, and continuing to help those affected by the flooding in Eastern Kentucky through our year-long tzedakah project. We've accomplished a lot this year, but still have more fun and learning in store.

FROM SISTERHOOD

Elissa Weinstein, President

While it was a little later than planned, Sisterhood has been getting our fun on this year. We've hosted a game afternoon, met for coffee, lunched and learned, and went out to dinner. If you're not a part of Sisterhood (and you really should be), fill out the membership form that was sent recently in the mail. We'll be meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 12, in the Sisterhood Lounge to socialize while making no-sew fleece blankets for donation. It's always such a fun program, and we look forward to it every year.

If you are interested in becoming involved with Sisterhood, please don't hesitate to contact me at (859) 263-1859 or taisisterhoodpresident@gmail.com.

Popkin book signing

Jeremy Popkin, a history professor at UK and a member of the Lexington Jewish community, will discuss and sign copies of his new book, "Zelda Popkin: The Life and Times of an American Jewish Writer," at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 13, at Joseph-Beth Booksellers.

Zelda Popkin, his grandmother, wrote novels and mystery stories. She won the 1952 National Jewish Book Award for "Quiet Street," one of the first American novels about the Israeli war for independence. Her most successful book, "The Journey Home," set during World War II, sold nearly a million copies.

UK lecture series

The spring lecture series from the University of Kentucky's Program in Jewish Studies, "Jewish Orthodoxy Today," continues through Feb. 27 on Zoom. The links can be found at Bit.ly/UKlecture. Here's the schedule:

Sunday, Feb. 5, 11:30 a.m.: "Making Movies About Orthodox Jews"; films and discussion by director Rama Birshstein

Sunday, Feb. 19, 5 p.m.: "Too Jewish? Imagining the Ultra-Orthodox and America" with Nora Rubel, University of Rochester

Monday, Feb. 27, 7 p.m.: "Leaving the Hasidic Community: Reality vs. Popular Culture" with Zalman S. Newfield, City University of New York

Dr. Milt Gellin, a member of TAI for almost 60 years, turns 100 on Feb. 23. If you would like to send well-wishes, contact Milt at megellin96@gmail.com or 2037 Blairmore Road, 40502.

Maggie Felix was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve in January.

TAI MISSION STATEMENT

Temple Adath Israel is a Reform Jewish congregation linked to a tradition of welcoming those searching for a community committed to honoring the dignity we all share as children of the one God by embracing these enduring Jewish values: AVODAH (Worship); TALMUD TORAH (Torah Study); TZEDEK (Social Justice); and KEHILAH (Community). Our mission is to inspire our congregants’ Jewish engagement and to ensure a vibrant Jewish present and future by nurturing the many generations of our community. We share a commitment to the Reform Jewish foundational beliefs of furthering individual and communal spiritual growth, while recognizing a range of personal philosophies, practices and needs. We are the community center through which our families can celebrate faith, justice, and the blessings of family lives present and future.
